General Fashion Revue Information

The Adams County 4-H Fashion Revue places emphasis on presentation and the total look of the garment on the model. Members are acknowledged for doing an exceptional job of presenting their garments (not accessories). Areas that judges look for include: garment fit, garment's suitability for the individual, overall appearance of the garment on participants and how the participant moves. Garment construction is not judged unless it affects the look of the garment.

Anyone may model a garment (not an accessory) they have made during the project year (the 2024-2025 4-H Year) in any unit of Leathercraft, Heritage Arts, Western Heritage, Clothing or Decorate Your Duds.

Grand Champions and Reserve Grand Champions will be awarded in the following areas:

- Junior Clothing (8 to 13-year olds)
- Decorate Your Duds (8 to 13-year olds)
- Western Heritage (8 to 13-year olds)
- Seniors (14 and over)
 - THREE Grand Champions will be awarded
 - ONE Reserve Grand Champion.

The senior grand champions (14 and over) will represent Adams County at the Colorado State Fair Fashion Revue in August.

Special awards for each group will also be presented during the awards.

Congeniality Ambassador

Again this year there will be a Congeniality Ambassador that is open to all Senior 4-H members (11 and Older). Fashion Revue participants will be evaluated on helpfulness, sportsmanship, encouragement and other positive character traits. Prizes will be awarded to the winner at the end of the Fashion Revue. See the flyer at the end of the packet for additional information. Good Luck!

Are You Modeling More than One Outfit?

If you are planning on modeling more than one outfit that you made this year, please make sure that you have a different script for each outfit.

Writing Your Script/Commentary

Following is information that will help you write your script/commentary. This is what will be read as you model on the stage. Remember, your script must be e-mailed to Julia at jhurdelbrink@adcogov.org no later than noon on July 21, 2025.

- Scripts need to be at least 60 seconds in length, but no more than 90 seconds
Please turn in your scripts typed, double spaced, 14 point font or larger
- Limit the amount of personal information in the script
- Have fun and be creative when writing your script/commentary.

When describing your garment in the script/commentary, consider including fabric content, pattern company, type of pockets, type or kind of sleeves/cuffs, description of collar or neckline, etc. Remember make it interesting to the audience. (See more examples following.)

➔ ➔ On Beautiful You Day, please bring an extra copy of your script with you. ← ←

WRITING YOUR COMMENTARY

1. Don't state the obvious.
2. Write for the general audience. Don't insult their intelligence.
3. Make it interesting and fun. Tell a story. Use adjectives and interesting phrases.
4. Your commentary needs to be at least 60 seconds in length, but no more than 90 seconds. When on stage, you do not stop modeling when the emcee finishes reading your commentary (you should finish soon after) but you MUST keep modeling as long as the commentary is being read!

BAD EXAMPLE:

Here we see Julie Brown modeling a blue pair of pants that have a zipper fly closing in the front and it has side pockets. A waistband has been attached. She is also wearing a shirt that is popular today. It has tails in the back and is made of 100% cotton. Julie is sixteen and enjoys riding horses, sewing and says she plans to take sewing in 4-H next year. Julie is from Adams County's Happy Harvesters 4-H club.

GOOD EXAMPLE:

Stepping right out of the showroom window is Julie Brown of Adams County's Happy Harvesters 4-H club. This light-hearted and spirited outfit is perfect for the 4th of July celebrations. These American royal blue pencil style pants are the latest in teen fashion. When staying with that American spirit, what can beat a tux-styled true red shirt topped off with a pure snow white knit collar. Sixteen years old and already Julie has developed a great sense of combining terrific wash and wear fabrics with today's styles to make ensembles such as this one that will truly be an asset to her wardrobe. So light the fireworks! It's time to celebrate.

Why is this good? 1) There's a story to tell. 2) Colors are described and interesting. 3) Fashion terms for clothing are used and fabric serviceability described instead of fiber content. 4) Judge's (and audience) intelligence is not insulted and an interest in the model and the clothes is kept.

Suggested Format:

- 1) Choose an overall topic theme or story for the commentary and the descriptive terms/words used.
Example: "This light-hearted and spirited outfit is perfect for the 4th of July celebrations"
- 2) Introduce model: Who is he/she? What club is he/she from? Does the introduction catch the judge's interest?
Example: "Stepping right out of the showroom window is Julie Brown of Adams County's Happy Harvesters 4H club."
- 3) Describe the clothes: How does it make the model feel? What activities will the model do while wearing the outfit? Did you describe the colors so a vision-impaired person could feel them?
Example: "These American royal blue pencil style pants are the latest in teenage fashions. When staying with that American spirit, what can beat a tux-styled true red shirt topped off with a pure snow white knit collar."
- 4) Always end with a fun and/or positive comment or statement to excite and keep audience interest.
Example: "So light the fireworks! It's time to celebrate."

SUGGESTION: Use current advertising phrases and current catch phrases to describe your clothes and personality. Look at fashion magazines or on the internet for ideas. Names describing a color (instead of red, blue, green, brown) give a vibrant feel to your outfit. Some sample phrases and adjectives you can mix into your commentary:

Jewel-like, glowing, draped, dramatic, bewitching, regal, crisp, saucy, classic, chic, Wear with all, gentle and warm, soft touch, chic fashion, fresh and neat, touch of class, hugs your curves, on-the-go, new dimension, radiate confidence, light-hearted and spirited, fits his/her lifestyle, new look, bright, opulent fashion, resplendent colors, great fashion mileage, scene stealing, rugged good looks, glittering, lively, vibrant, cinnamon, ice cream, royal, desert beige, crimson, mint julep, smokey olive, canary, mango, Tabasco, periwinkle, magenta, horizon violet, seafoam, pewter, aqua, ebony, frost, fudge.

Have fun writing your commentary!

REMEMBER, ALL SCRIPTS MUST BE E-MAILED TO JULIA AT jhurdelbrink@adcogov.org NO LATER THAN NOON ON MONDAY, JULY 21, 2025! No Exceptions!
